The book "Women: Masters or Mothers?" by H.H. Bhakti Vikasa Swami is in my humble opinion a unique contribution to our society which is yet to be built.

Unfortunately we all witness the bitter fruits of the Western culture in every field of human life in this dark age. This book brings a hope that there is genuine, selfless care for womanhood still living in the timeless tradition of Vedic culture.

Boldly presented by Bhakti Vikasa Maharaja solely through Srila Prabhupada's teachings, this book will be appreciated by generations of Vaishnavas to come.
